David's role as the president of Warner Larson involves fostering solid client relationships, directing project implementation and ensuring careful quality control of the services we provide.

At the heart of David's approach to each project is his dedication to design excellence, environmental responsibility and personal service. David believes in giving thoughtful attention to each client's needs and the characteristics of their property and is committed to building and maintaining relationships that make projects successful for everyone involved.

In Warner Larson's role as a lead site consultant for complex developments, David is responsible for coordinating multi-disciplinary teams to meet all project requirements. He is adept at supporting community projects through the public process of programming, feasibility studies, design development review, permitting and construction.

David's recent projects include:

- Taunton High School Renovation
- Medway High School Athletic Facilities
- Weston Athletic Fields
